This weekend, exactly 20 years after the horrific 9/11 attack at the World Trade Center in New York, the Pentagon, and United Flight UA 93 in PA, the Schiller Institute's Annual 9/11 Memorial Commemoration to honor the victims and their memory, will be followed by an important "Look forward—where do we go from here?" event. The Commemoration is a Classical music concert on Friday evening, and the "Look forward" event is the Schiller Institute Conference on Saturday. You are invited to attend both events.

The concert requires a ticket for $5 (or more if you wish to contribute), and can be used to view the concert anytime after the live event. The Saturday Conference is free, at www.schillerinstitute.com and will be archived immediately after the event. Please join us for these two events at this moment of great peril, but also of great opportunity for mankind. "Dona Nobis Pacem."

Beethoven's inscription above the "Dona Nobis Pacem" section calls for "inner and outer peace": Bitte um inneren und äußeren Frieden, i.e., a plea for both spiritual and worldly peace. If there is any doubt of what outer peace refers to, no one will miss the operatic changes of scenes bringing in the trumpets and drums of war, the assertive entreaties following the stormy orchestral interlude replacing the calm plea for peace in the earlier section. This monumental piece resolves quietly and peacefully, but not without the lingering echo of drums in the distance.

The concert will be broadcast live by MUSAE from Our Lady of Pompeii Church at 25 Carmine St. in New York's Greenwich

Village, with a mixture of prerecorded and live performances. Along with the final movements of the Missa Solemnis, the program will include live performances of works of Schubert, Schumann, Verdi, Moses Hogan and Harry T. Burleigh. ## SCHILLER INSTITUTE CONFERENCE

THE PATH FORWARD:

SEPTEMBER 11, AFGHANISTAN, AND THE SURVEILLANCE STATE

Lørdag den 11. september · kl. 20 dansk tid on schillerinstitute.com

Twenty years ago, America walked away from the U.S. Constitution, down the path of permanent war. "Preventive war," which had been declared a "crime against humanity" at the 1949 Nuremberg Trials against the Nazis, was carried out by the United States against Iraq. This happened after Bush 43 told the world that "The British government has learned that Saddam Hussein recently sought significant quantities of uranium from Africa." But within hours, the United Nations International Atomic Energy Agency had determined that the British report was false; the documents upon which the war was based were forged. The war happened anyway, as did several others.

Trillions of dollars, millions of lives, and several destroyed nations later, we must admit the failure of our assumptions. A World Health Platform, as proposed by Schiller Institute founder Helga Zepp-LaRouche, providing clean water, public sanitation, and abundant energy, food and medicines to the world, is now the only truly human military strategy that the world can afford. A United States freed from the imperial designs of Great Britain's City Of London should join its historical allies China and Russia and, in collaboration with the world's nations, move humanity forward as a whole. That starts through a crash world public health platform, by means of which victory over the economic conditions that breed pandemic disease is a tangible as well as universal victory for all.

Speakers include Helga Zepp-LaRouche, VIPS members William Binney and Ray McGovern and others,
