

Vi har brug for en international kampagne for sandhed, ikke kun en international dag eller uge for sandhed. LaRouchePAC Internationale Webcast, 24. februar, 2017; Leder

Meningen med denne Internationale Sandhedsdag, der fandt sted i går, var ikke kun at fortælle sandheden om begivenhederne i Maidan-kuppet for tre år siden i Ukraine; men var også for at advare om, at de samme netværk, der var ansvarlige for at bruge teknikkerne for 'farvede revolutioner' i Ukraine for tre år siden for at vælte denne regering, og som har brugt disse samme teknikker i andre lande i hele verden – Rosen-revolutionen i Georgien, og andre steder – nu forsøger at begå præcis den samme form for farvede revolution internt i USA lige nu, imod præsident Donald Trumps demokratisk valgte regering. Dette har selvfølgelig en massiv, international sammenhæng, og det vil vi se nærmere på senere i udsendelsen. Helga Zepp-LaRouche understregede udtrykkeligt, da vi talte med hende tidligere på dagen, at vi må se dette i sammenhæng med det nye, fremvoksende, økonomiske paradigme, der kommer fra Kina; Bælt-og-Vej-initiativet, som er den motor, der driver historien frem i øjeblikket. Samt det faktum, at der er en meget reel mulighed for, at vi, under USA's nye administration, kan gøre en ende på æraen med geopolitik og faktisk indgå i et samarbejde med Rusland, Kina, Indien, Japan og andre lande for at skabe et nyt, internationalt samarbejde, baseret på økonomisk udvikling og produktivitet.

Matthew Ogden: God eftermiddag. Det er i dag den 24. februar. Via video har vi i dag Diane Sare fra vores politiske komite, med os fra New York.

Som seere af denne webside ved, har denne uge af Helga Zepp-LaRouche været erklæret for en international uge for sandhed. Dette blev planlagt til at falde sammen med treårsdagen for kuppet, der væltede den demokratisk valgte regering i Ukraine for tre år siden i Kiev; det var den 23. februar, 2014. Der har været møder over hele USA, og også i Europa. Vi havde møder i New York City; Detroit; Washington, D.C.; Houston, Texas – andre byer i USA, Boston, Massachusetts, og i Berlin, Tyskland; Dresden, Tyskland; Paris, Frankrig, og også i andre lande i Europa.

Meningen med denne Internationale Sandhedsdag, der fandt sted i går, var ikke kun at fortælle sandheden om begivenhederne i Maidan-kuppet for tre år siden i Ukraine; men var også for at advare om, at de samme netværk, der var ansvarlige for at bruge teknikkerne for 'farvede revolutioner' i Ukraine for tre år siden for at vælte denne regering, og som har brugt disse samme teknikker i andre lande i hele verden – Rosenrevolutionen i Georgien, og andre steder – nu forsøger at begå præcis den samme form for farvede revolution internt i USA lige nu, imod præsident Donald Trumps demokratisk valgte regering. Dette har selvfølgelig en massiv, international sammenhæng, og det vil vi se nærmere på senere i udsendelsen. Helga Zepp-LaRouche understregede udtrykkeligt, da vi talte med hende tidligere på dagen, at vi må se dette i sammenhæng med det nye, fremvoksende, økonomiske paradigme, der kommer fra Kina; Bælt-og-Vej-initiativet, som er den motor, der driver historien frem i øjeblikket. Samt det faktum, at der er en meget reel mulighed for, at vi, under USA's nye administration, kan gøre en ende på æraen med geopolitik og faktisk indgå i et samarbejde med Rusland, Kina, Indien, Japan og andre lande for at skabe et nyt, internationalt samarbejde, baseret på økonomisk udvikling og produktivitet.

Som jeg sagde, så vil vi gå mere i dybden med denne sammenhæng; men, for at begynde vores udsendelse, vil jeg gerne vise en video for jer fra disse møder, der har fundet sted i hele landet og i hele verden, på denne Internationale Dag for Sandhed, den 23. februar.

Dane Sare (video): Jeg er Diane Sare fra LaRouchePAC Policy Committee, og vi står på Dag Hammarskjold Plaza ikke langt fra De forenede Nationer (New York City). Vi deltager i Sandhedens Dag, som Lyndon og Helga LaRouche har krævet. Denne uge markerer treårsdagen for kuppet i Ukraine; et kup mod nationen Ukraine, hvor den demokratiske valgte præsident, [Viktor] Janukovitj, blev afsat af en flok voldelige, pro-nazistiske demonstranter, der blev finansieret og støttet med de af [tidligere viceudenrigsminister for europæiske og eurasiske anliggender] Victoria Nuland hævdede $5 mia. gennem det Amerikanske Udenrigsministerium under Barack Obamas præsidentskab; samt med åbenlys støtte fra storspekulanten George Soros. Vores pointe er, at, i dag, begår Obama og Soros forræderi imod USA's valgte regering, på vegne af Det britiske Imperium. Det britiske Imperium har i århundreder organiseret for at forhindre USA i at samarbejde med Rusland. Vi har nu et enormt potentiale pga. begivenhederne i 2013; oprettelsen af BRIKS-banken og den kinesiske præsident Xi Jinpings annoncering af, at Kina har indledt et initiativ for win-win-samarbejde – enden på geopolitik; at, hvis USA opgav politikken med regimeskifte og Det britiske Imperiums politik, som blev forfulgt under præsidentskaberne Bush og Obama, og i stedet samarbejder med Rusland, Kina, Indien og Japan om global udvikling, så ville vi transformere planeten; og menneskeheden ville have den mest lysende fremtid, man kan tænke sig. Det er derfor i dag meget presserende, at vi begraver løgnene, den nazi-lignende propaganda imod Rusland, der bliver brugt til at forsøge at omstyrte Donald Trumps præsidentskab; Trump, der har udtrykt sin hensigt om at ændre denne dynamik. Vi opfordrer indtrængende alle, der følger os på vores hjemmeside (LPAC), til at tilslutte sig denne indsats; til at printe vores litteratur ud, til at underskrive appellen, der kræver en genindførelse af Glass/Steagall-loven, som ville trække tæppet væk under fødderne på Wall Streets og City of Londons evne til at finansiere sådanne terrorist-operationer, og vi opfordrer indtrængende alle til at arbejde sammen med os for at sikre, at USA kan vende tilbage til den arv, som var hensigten hos vore Grundlæggende Fædre, såsom George Washington, Alexander Hamilton og, i nyere tid, geniet og den amerikanske statsmand, Lyndon LaRouche.

Kesha Rogers : Den 23. februar markerer treårsdagen for Maidan-kuppet i Ukraine; det begyndte den 23. feb., 2014. Dette har fundet sted som en bestræbelse fra Barack Obama, USA's tidligere præsident, og George Soros, multimilliardær-narkohandleren, der tilsammen har anført angrebet for at ødelægge og omvælte nationer med det formål at få USA ind i en krig med Rusland. Løgnene, der fortsat eskalerer aktiviteterne i Ukraine, og som pegede på ideen om, at det var Putin, der anførte eskaleringen i Ukraine, er de samme løgne, der finder sted her, nu, i USA, for at omstyrte Trumps præsidentskab. Dette må stoppes. Som en del af en National Sandhedsdag har vi udgivet et dossier, der afslører Obama og Soros for deres pengestøtte og deres løgne, der har skabt totalt kaos både USA og fortsætter med at skabe kaos i Ukraine. Endemålet er Putin og Rusland. (Se dossier her: <http://schillerinstitut.dk/si/?p=18018>)

Det, vi burde gøre, er at samarbejde med Rusland; samarbejde med Putin. Vi må stoppe disse krige; vi må stoppe dette fortsatte kaos. Vi bør samarbejde, som Lyndon LaRouche har påpeget, om Silkevejens økonomiske udvikling; det er, hvad USA har brug for. Vi står her ved et møde i Twome ved en bro. Vore bannere lyder, »Sæt Obama og Soros i fængsel for forræderi!

Ukraine 2014; USA 2017«. Folk må forstå, hvad det er, der finder sted i denne nation nu, og kræve økonomisk udvikling; vi har brug for samarbejde. Vi er her som en del af Sandhedens Dag; og vi beder om, at alle, der ser dette, deltager i vore møder og læser dossieret.

Harley Schlanger [voice over video med sang]: I dag er treårsdagen for kuppet, der blev gennemført af amerikanske efterretningsoperationer og neokonservative, finansieret af George Soros, for at bringe en flok nazister til magten i Kiev. Vi er her i dag som en Sandhedens Dag for at få den sande historie ud. Ukraine-operationen bliver nu atter gearret op for at skabe kamp mellem Rusland og Vesten, som en måde at sabotere det potentiale, der eksisterer med Trump-administrationen, for at bryde med denne politik for krig. De amerikanske vælgere stemte på Trump, i vid udstrækning for at bryde denne politik for konfrontation med Rusland; så det er vigtigt, at denne Sandhedsdag bringer den kendsgerning frem, at Ukraine-situationen aldrig handlede om demokrati i Ukraine. Men handlede derimod om en bevidst operation for at skabe en konfrontation mellem USA og Rusland. Dette er George Soros', City of Londons og Barack Obamas politik, og som har været involveret i at sabotere præsident Trumps initiativ for fred mellem Rusland og USA.

Vi er her i Berlin som en del af den Internationale Dag for Sandhed, for at gøre opmærksom på det faktum, at de kriminelle personer, der bragte nazisterne til magten i Kiev, stadig ikke er blevet stillet for retten; de er ikke blevet retsforfulgt. Denne demonstration her i Berlin er en del af den Internationale Aktionsdag. På LPAC's webside kan man downloade et dossier, som vi har sammensat, om hvem, der er ansvarlig for drabene i Ukraine. Det er ikke russerne; det er ikke præsident Putin. Det er Hillary Clinton, Victoria Nuland, de neokonservative i USA og tidligere præsident Barack Obama.

[Mand 2 taler på tysk og siger, der er møder i Boston, New York City, Paris, Berlin og Frankfurt am Main, og beskriver kuppet for tre år siden.]

Mathew Ogden, (studiet): Dette dossier kan altså læses på <https://lpac.co/ukraine-dossier>, som vi viser på skærmen lige nu. (Med dansk introduktion, her: <http://schillerinstitut.dk/si/?p=18018>). Det har titlen, »Obama-Soros 'farvede revolutioner'; Nazi-kup i Ukraine, 2014; USA, 2017?« Dossieret cirkuleres ved alle disse møder for Sandhedens Dag, som I netop så, inkl. i New York City. Jeg får en rapport direkte fra Diane [Sare], men før hun kommer på, så lad mig rapportere, at der er en lang artikel i Itar-TASS, som er en russisk nyhedstjeneste, der har en dækning af mødet, der fandt sted i New York City (se <http://schillerinstitut.dk/si/?p=18092>); det var lige i begyndelsen af vores aktion. Titlen var »Demonstranter i New York anklagede Obama og Soros for at organisere kuppet i Ukraine«. Dernæst bemærkes det, at lignende aktioner fandt sted i Boston, Houston, Berlin og andre steder. Lad mig blot lige læse et hurtigt uddrag af denne artikel fra Itar-TASS. Den siger:

I flere timer uddelte aktivister torsdag i New Yorks centrum, såvel som i flere andre amerikanske byer, trykt materiale, der erklærer, at magtskiftet i Ukraine blev gennemført med direkte støtte fra milliardær George Soros og den 44. amerikanske præsident Barack Obamas administration.

Aktionsdagen var arrangeret af Schiller Instituttet inden for rammerne af en kampagne for at oplyse amerikanere om den aktuelle situation i Ukraine, i anledning af årsdagen for begivenhederne på 'Maidan'.

Artiklen har dernæst underoverskriften,

I går Janukovitj; i morgen, Trump

I New York, siger artiklen, blev begivenheden afholdt i den centrale bydel Manhattan, på pladsen, hvor 47. gade og Second Avenue mødes, i nærheden af FN's hovedkvarter. Medlemmerne viste i særdeleshed bannere og posters med ordene: »Obama – i fængsel«, »Din fjende – George Soros«.

Dernæst citerer artiklen Diane Sare:

»Vi har sandsynligvis uddelt flere hundrede eksemplarer af vore publikationer her«, sagde talskvinde Diane Sare fra Schiller Instituttet, som er en del af Lyndon LaRouche-bevægelsens politiske komite.

Ifølge Diane Sare fandt lignende aktioner sted torsdag i Boston (Massachusetts), Houston (Texas), så vel som også i den tyske hovedstad Berlin. Som Sare pointerede, så »går aktivister ud til hele verden, for at den skal kende sandheden om det, der skete i Ukraine for tre år siden«.

Og vi springer lidt, og artiklen siger:

»Ifølge Sare er det vigtigt, at amerikanere kender til begivenhederne i Ukraine, hvor den lovligt valgte præsident, Viktor Janukovitj blev omstyrtet, fordi et lignende senarie kunne begynde at udvikle sig i USA. De samme personer forsøger nu at fjerne den amerikanske præsident Donald Trump fra magten«.

Artiklen slutter med at sige:

Materialet, som uddeles af aktivisterne, er data fra en rapport, forberedt af LaRouche-bevægelsen, om begivenhederne i Ukraine og eventualiteten af en lignende situation i USA. TASS har modtaget den fulde version af dokumentet. I rapporten beskrives magtskiftet i landet som en »voldelig revolution«, der blev gennemført med den aktive deltagelse af »neo-nazistiske grupper«. Obama-administrationen og nogle af Washingtons allierede, bemærkes det, brugte begivenhederne i Ukraine som »en retfærdiggørelse af den nye fase af NATO's militære oprustning imod Rusland«.

Victoria Nuland, der på det tidspunkt indtog posten som viceudenrigsminister for europæiske og eurasiske anliggender, »kom flere gange til protesterne og uddelte cookies til 'Maidan', samtidig med, at hun nægtede at indrømme den kendsgerning, at der, ud over fredelige demonstranter, der var bekymrede over korrupsion og den økonomiske situation, også var eksplicit neofascistiske bander, der deltog i den bevæbnede opstand imod en valgt regering«.

Den slutter dernæst med,

Forfatterne påpeger også, at Soros, så vel som andre personer, der tidligere var en del af Obamas inderkreds, i øjeblikket er aktivt involveret i forsøgene på at miskreditere Trump og lovede ikke at give den nye indvåner i Det Hvide Hus mulighed for at normalisere relationerne mellem Moskva og Washington.

Den siger dernæst,

Ved slutningen af december 2016 bragte aktivister fra Schiller Instituttet, til minde om ofrene i Tu-154-flystyrtet, blomster til den Russiske Føderations Generalkonsulat i New York og opførte den russiske nationalhymne foran dets indgang. I begyndelsen af januar afholdt de en ceremoni ved »Tåremindesmærket« af Zurab Tsereteli, i den amerikanske by Bayonne (New Jersey), for at mindes de omkomne i styrtet.

Lyndon LaRouche – amerikansk økonom og politiker, ophavsmand til teorien om den såkaldte »fysiske økonomi« og fjende af monetaristiske ideer. Han anser Rusland for at være en hovedspiller på verdensscenen og mener, at Rusland, sammen med Kina, Indien, USA og flere andre lande, kan redde verden fra den største krise i historien.

Her slutter artiklen.

Så det er en meget omfattende reportage og dækning i TASS, og jeg ved, at du, Diane, blev interviewet af flere andre, internationale medier ved dette møde ved FN, så du kan måske give os en rapport fra marken der.

Diane Sare: Jo da! Det er slående, og jeg har hørt fra vore folk i Boston, der har en lignende, måske mere stram og storsnudet befolkning, end vi har her i New York – dermed mener jeg, at folk i vid udstrækning anser den for liberal. Man kunne måske tro, at vi ville få en meget tilknappet eller fjendtlig respons til det, vi har at sige; men åbenheden var faktisk ret usædvanlig. Vi fik uddelt 70 kopier af dossieret med den eksplicitte forståelse, at vi kun uddeler dem til repræsentanter fra (diplomatiske) missioner eller andre organisatoriske institutionsfolk, så jeg mener, at flere folk fra et par forskellige lande stoppede op for at tage materialet, og mange kom tilbage efter mere information.

Jeg mener, at en bemærkning fra en ung, afroamerikansk militærveteran var bemærkelsesværdig; han sagde: »Jeg havde tænkt på Trump som en del af the establishment. Han er rig, han er milliardær, han er hvid, han er en del af Wall Street. Hvorfor angriber de ham?« Han sagde, at det gav mening, hvis der var et fremstød for krig med Rusland, på den ene side – og det er noget, Trump er modstander af – at det så var årsagen til et sådant angreb.

Jeg vil også gerne forklare lidt mere om det, jeg sagde på denne video om 2013, for jeg mener, at, med mindre folk forstår dette, kan man ikke rigtig forstå, hvad det er, der foregår her, og jeg reflekterede over den sommer. Der skete to ting i 2013: Den ene ting var, at den kinesiske præsident Xi Jinping annoncerede Ét Bælte, én Vej-initiativet, der nu omfatter over 70 nationer, milliarder af verdens befolkning, ti tusinder af kilometer højhastigheds-jernbaner, forestående aftaler om byggeri af havne, kernekraftværker, rumforskning osv.; men der var også en konference i Fortaleza, Brasilien, med BRIKS-nationerne, hvor de oprettede en udviklingsbank og også en bank til at beskytte sig mod valutaspekulation, og som kom i drift omkring et år senere.

Jeg reflekterede over dette, for vi befandt os i USA's Kongres for at udføre lobbyvirksomhed – Matt, det husker du nok – den uge, og vi opdagede, at ingen i Kongressen havde hørt noget som helst om denne ekstraordinære begivenhed. Det er virkelig stort, når man har nationer – Rusland, Kina og Indien, det er store nationer. Brasilien er et stort land i Sydamerika. Sydafrika er meget avanceret mht. det afrikanske kontinent, og de er forpligtende engageret over for kernekraft, hvilket er interessant. Det faktum, at de skaber en finansiell og økonomisk institution, der gør det muligt for nationer at komme ud af det bankerotte Britiske Imperiums greb.

Jeg husker, at vi opdagede, at Udenrigsministeriet faktisk havde udsendt et memo eller sådan noget, der instruerede folk om, at dette virkelig ikke var en betydningsfuld udvikling. Jeg rejser dette nu, for det, amerikanere ikke bør overse, er potentialet. Hvorfor alt det hysteri? Hvorfor skulle George Soros deployere sine titals millioner af dollars til at betale alle disse agitatorer og organisere denne 30.000 mand stærke hær af aktivister, som Barack Obama efter sigende skal anføre? Jamen fordi det, der nu er opstået – og allerede er langt fremme – er et Nyt Paradigme.

Vore seere er sandsynligvis klar over dette: kineserne har, sammen med Etiopiens regering, netop færdiggjort en jernbane fra Djibouti til Addis Ababa. (Se <http://schillerinstitut.dk/si/?p=17298>). Denne strækning tog 3 dage med lastbil, og tager nu 12 timer med tog. Det betyder, at, når man har tørke i Etiopien, så behøver folk ikke at dø. Man kan hurtigt få mad og vand frem. Det betyder store muligheder for udviklingen af hele det afrikanske kontinent, og for det sydamerikanske kontinent. Og hvis man tænker på det, folk har lært – hvad det Britiske økonomiske System er – ikke bare »køb billigt og sælg dyrt«, men Malthus: resurser forøges aritmetisk, og befolkningen forøges geometrisk. Derfor er vi overbefolkede; vi må nedlukke menneskers forbrug af energi og mad; reducere befolkningen. Det er krige gode til.

Med andre ord, så har vi et potentiale for et helt nyt paradigme for menneskeheden, globalt, og nøglen er, at USA går med i dette paradigme. Præsident Trump har, gennem at udtale sin plan om at få en fornuftig relation til Rusland, og forhåbentlig også Kina og Japan (nævnte han), indikeret en åbenhed over for at blive en del af dette nye paradigme; og derfor er bagslaget temmelig ekstraordinært. Jeg tror ikke, der har været noget tidspunkt – jeg ved, at Abraham Lincoln måtte tage til sin indsættelse, forklædt som en kvinde, pga. protester osv.; men jeg tror ikke, der har været noget tidspunkt, hvor man i ugevis, månedsvis, denne form for agitation, såkaldt »modstandsbevægelse«, eller hvad de nu kalder det for, oppositionen til en ny præsident. Jeg mener, at det er meget vigtigt, at amerikanere identificerer, hvad dette potentiale er, så vi ved, hvad der er for en kamp, der finder sted; og derfor bekæmper de løgne i de amerikanske medier om Rusland, om Vladimir Putin og om, hvad Ruslands intentioner er. Det, der skete i Ukraine, er et meget, meget vigtigt aspekt for at neutralisere dette angreb på vort præsidentskab, og for at gøre det muligt for USA at tilslutte sig dette [paradigme].

Mathew Ogden: En ting, jeg bør nævne, er, at, ud over de aktiviteter, som den internationale LaRouche-bevægelse afholdt i denne uge omkring denne Internationale Uge for Sandhed, har Helga Zepp-LaRouche også sat fokus på to meget betydningsfulde appeller, som kom fra både tidligere (ukrainske) præsident, Viktor Janukovitj, og fra Ukraines tidligere premierminister, Mykola Azarov, og som ligger præcis på linje med dette spørgsmål om »en uge for sandhed«.

Viktor Janukovitj har skrevet et brev til verdens ledere, som også inkluderer præsident Trump, præsident Putin, den tyske kansler Angela Merkel og den franske præsident François Hollande. Han appellerer til verdens ledere om at »indlede skabelsen af en særkommission i Europarådet, der skal overvåge en efterforskning af forbrydelser, der blev begået på Maidan«. Det vil sige, en »Sandhedskommission«, der skal nå frem til sandheden om, hvad det var, der i virkeligheden skete under den såkaldte »fredelige revolution« på Maidan.

På linje med dette har den tidligere ukrainske premierminister, Mykola Azarov, der tjente fra 2010 og frem til januar 2014, hvor han trak sig tilbage på højden af Maidan-protesterne, udgivet en rapport på sin Facebookside, hvor han siger: »I dag er vi og efterforskere i Kiev i besiddelse af pålidelige informationer om det faktum, at mordene på Maidan blev udført af specialgrupper af snigskytter fra Georgien, de baltiske lande og Polen, under ledelse af instruktører fra Frankrig og Tyskland.« Dernæst siger han: »Man gjorde forsøg på at lægge skylden for massakren helt og holdent på Janukovitj og Berkut-uropolitiet.« Han siger direkte her, at dette var et svindelnummer, og at de såkaldte »snigskytter« blev deployeret af efterretningstjenester fra udlandet, med det formål at få en allerede meget ustabil situation til at eksplodere, og at ændre den fra blot at være protester og til at være et voldeligt statskup. Dette er ligeledes i sammenhængen med denne Internationale Uge for Sandhed om sandheden om det, der sker, eller det, der skete, i Ukraine.

Samtidig er der flere amerikanske kongresmedlemmer, der er ved at identificere den rolle, som George Soros spiller netop nu, i forsøg på at starte en farvet revolution i Makedonien. De bør måske snarere vende deres opmærksomhed mod deres egen baghave og deres egne offentlige borgermøder og mod begivenhederne i USA; men det er meget nyttigt, at disse er siddende amerikanske kongresmedlemmer, der er i færd med at identificere den rolle, som George Soros og hans netværk spiller i disse internationale farvede revolutioner.

Lad mig vende tilbage til den pointe, som du kom med, Diane, og jeg mener, at det er et afgørende punkt, at man ikke kan forstå virkeligheden af, hvad der var den virkelige hensigt bag det, der skete i Ukraine i 2014, uden at man forstår det dramatiske vendepunkt, som historien oplevede på det tidspunkt. Dette var BRIKS-topmødet i Fortaleza – som du nævnte – og i særdeleshed præsident Xi Jinpings annoncering af Bælt-og-Vej-initiativet; en Nye Silkevej. Det var Viktor Janukovitj' beslutning om ikke at indgå denne frihandelsaftale med den mislykkede Europæiske Union, og i stedet bevare hans økonomiske forbindelser til Rusland, som udgjorde påskuddet til, at det på det tidspunkt blev besluttet at lancere denne form for voldelige omstyrtelse af hans regering.

Lad os se på det aktuelle øjeblik. Hvad har Donald Trump telegraferet? Ikke alene trak han sig tilbage fra TPP – som var Obama-administrationens tilsigtede plan for at forsøge at begrænse den kinesiske indflydelse i Asien; men han havde også direkte samtaler med præsident Xi Jinping, som han sagde, var meget konstruktive. Han havde dette topmøde med [den japanske premierminister] Abe. Men disse relationer behøver ikke være gensidigt ekskluderende. Og helt klart, hans relation til Rusland – det faktum, at han trak os tilbage fra randen af en atomkrig, der forfulgtes af Obama og, på sigt, at Hillary Clinton.

Det er altså i denne sammenhæng, og det er spændingen i det aktuelle øjeblik i historien, der endnu ikke er løst. Men spørgsmålet er, vil USA tilslutte sig den Nye Silkevej? Som folk ved, så er der et forestående topmøde i maj måned i Kina, om Bælt-og-Vej-initiativet; præsident Xi Jinping vil være vært, og Ruslands præsident Putin vil deltage personligt. Den aktuelle kampagne går ud på at formidle til præsident Trump, at, ikke alene bør han deltage i dette topmøde personligt; men at han bør forlade topmødet med et udtrykkeligt forpligtende engagement for, at USA vil opgive de seneste mange årtiers geopolitik og beslutsomt vil indgå i et win-win-samarbejde omkring dette Nye Silkevejsinitiativ. Der er ingen som helst chance for, at USA kan få en økonomisk genrejsning uden at deltage i dette nye paradigme for udvikling, med store projekter, som Kina allerede er begyndt at sprede i hele Eurasien. Og, som du sagde, Diane, ind i Afrika og selv ind i lande i Sydamerika.

En meget betydningsfuld ting er en rapport, der netop er udkommet, publiceret af PriceWaterhouse Cooper, som er et stort, internationalt erhvervs- og analysefirma. Denne rapport har titlen, »2016 B&R vurdering; Kina og Bæltet og Vejens infrastruktur; gennemgang og udsigter«. Den er netop blevet udgivet i februar 2017. rapporten har en meget omfattende gennemgang af, hvad Bælt-og-Vej-initiativet er; den indeholder et meget veludarbejdet kort, der hedder, »Bælt og Vej; en genoplivelse af den Gamle Silkevej«. Den har et afsnit, der dokumenterer, hvor mange lande, der allerede er involveret i Bælt-og-Vej-initiativet. Den siger: »B&R (Belt & Road) området spænder over tre kontinenter og inkluderer i alt 66 lande, fra Litauen til Indonesien.« Dernæst, i sammenhæng med den eksplosive vækst, der allerede er begyndt at vise sig i nogle af disse lande – især i Kina, men også i andre lande, der nyder godt af denne investering i disse store projekter; rapporten har så en analyse af dem for de kommende måneder og kommende år. En grafisk fremstilling siger, »Vi ser potentiale for betydelig vækst inden for energi, jernbaner og sundhedssektor i flere af mellemindkomst-landene i Bæltet-og-Vej. En anden grafisk fremstilling siger, «trans-eurasiske jernbanenet vil dramatisk reducere tiden mellem Kina og europæiske forbrugermarkeder«. Sluttelig siger rapporten, »Urbanisering og befolkningstilvækst vil anspore en fortsat efterspørgsel af transportinfrastruktur med stor kapacitet«.

Så dette er altså verdensøkonomiens fremtid. Væksten, tyngdepunktet er afgørende skiftet til Eurasien, til Kina og til de lande, der nu udgør en del af Bælt-og-Vej-initiativet. Hvis Donald Trump mener det alvorligt mht. at fremme en økonomisk genrejsning i USA, vil det ske ved at tilslutte sig – i et win-win-samarbejde – Kina og disse andre lande; og ved at tilslutte sig den Nye Silkevej. Som jeg har nævnt, så udgav LaRouchePAC for to år siden en brochure om spørgsmålet om USA, der bør tilslutte sig den Nye Silkevej; og vi er i øjeblikket i færd med at opdatere denne brochure på en hel ny måde. Den vil forhåbentlig være tilgængelig om en uge eller to.

Så sæt dette i sammenhæng og indse, at Ukraine-kuppet skete pga. Viktor Janukovitj' beslutning om ikke at indgå en frihandelsaftale med en Europæisk Union, der er i færd med at blive en fiasko; og fordi han indså, at der var ved at vokse en ny, økonomisk dynamik frem med udgangspunkt i Eurasien. Vi har nu en potentielt lignende situation internt her i USA. Så denne Dag for Sandhed var ikke bare for at sige, »Her er, hvad der skete i Ukraine for tre år siden«, men, lad det være en advarsel; dette bliver faktisk forsøgt også internt i USA i dag.

Du vil måske følge op på dette spørgsmål, Diane? Men jeg bør også påpege, at præsident Trumps Tale om Nationens Tilstand ('State of the Union') til en fælles Kongressamling finder sted på tirsdag. Det er den 28. februar, og det er deadline for vores kampagne for appellen om Glass/Steagall-initiativet. Adressen kommer her på skærmen: <https://lpac.co/trumpsotu>. Og denne kampagne for appellen accelererer fortsat. I går på vores aktivist-telefonmøde, Fireside Chat, fik vi en rapport fra flere aktivister i LaRouchePAC, fra New York til Connecticut og til Californien, som deltog i offentlige borgermøder og intervenerede med dette spørgsmål. Glass-Steagall haster; Trump lovede dette under sin præsidentvalgkamp. Vi må holde ham til hans ord og opfordre ham til at forpligte sig til genindførelsen af Glass-Steagall under, eller før, han holder sin tale til nationen på næste tirsdag. Vil du sige mere om denne kampagne, eller om noget andet, du har på hjerte, Diane?

Diane Sare: Jeg vil gerne sige, at Trump har udtalt sin plan om at bruge $1 billion på infrastruktur i USA. Jeg forstår, at kineserne mener, vi har brug for omkring $8 billion i investeringer; hvilket sandsynligvis er mere præcist. Men $1 billion er bestemt en god begyndelse. Men hvordan gør vi det? Hvor går det hen, hvis Japans premierminister Abe, der netop har været her, ønsker at investere $150 mia. på at bygge højhastighedsjernbaner? For det første, når man har et banksystem, hvor alle indskud kan blive brugt som sikkerhed for en bail-in af derivat-forpligtelser, hvem ville så ønske at sætte deres investeringer igennem et sådant system? For det andet, så har vi ikke en nationalbank (uafhængig statsbank); vi har ikke Finansministeriet, der er under Kongressens kontrol i den forstand, som det burde være det. Vi har Federal Reserve, der har udført bail-out (statslig bankredning) for $31 billion. Så for, at dette kan lykkes, er LaRouches Fire Love, med begyndelse i først og fremmest Glass-Steagall, absolut presserende nødvendigt. Men Glass-Steagall alene er ikke nok; men det er et første skridt. Jeg vil sige, at, hvis Trump undlader at indføre Glass-Steagall og vedtage denne fremgangsmåde, så udgør det en stor sårbarhed; for med mindre USA's regering rent faktisk handler for at lægge denne gigantiske boble af spekulativ gæld i tømme, og rejser denne brandmur mellem investeringsbankerne og de kommercielle banker, så, når systemet nedsmelter – og det vil det uvægerligt gøre; det må det.

Alle bør blot overveje, hvad vi har lavet, mht. fysisk produktivitet, der svarer til den pengemængde, der nu er i omløb? Intet. Den fysiske produktivitet er kollapset. Dette er hr. LaRouches berømte Trippelkurve, der ser ud som en trompet; med en hyperbolsk kurve, der går opad, og en hyperbolsk kurve, der går nedad. Vi befinder os ved kollapsunktet; systemet vil krakke. Vi må have Glass-Steagall på plads. Hvis det ikke bliver gjort, så skaber det muligheden for et ekstraordinært kaos i dette land, og globalt. Men dernæst ønsker man også et banksystem; et nationalt banksystem, der gør det muligt for den nødvendige kredit at strømme til drivkraften for hele økonomien. Hvilket udtrykkeligt betyder finansiering af udviklingen af nuklear fusionskraft for at hæve hele den platform, vi fungerer på, samt rumprogrammet. I stedet for blot at have små lommer med højhastighedsjernbaner, så har vi i realiteten brug for et transkontinentalt jernbanenet. Som jeg før har sagt; hvis vi vil krydse Hudson-floden, bør vi sørge for, at vi krydser Beringstrædet i den anden ende. Disse ting er kun mulige med et fornuftigt banksystem; så jeg mener, at det er meget presserende, at vi ikke lader denne sårbarhed stå åben. Alle, der ser dette, eller jeres venner, jeres naboer, få disse appeller til at cirkulere, underskrevet, og overgiv dem til jeres kongresmedlem eller jeres senator, eller send dem til os. Jeg ved, at vi har overgivet 2300 underskrifter på dette til Trumps Hvide Hus, og vi vil få mange flere. Vi bør gøre det meget hurtigt.

Matthew Ogden: Der er en ting, du også påpegede i går, og det er, at, på trods af mediepropagandaen, så er alle disse folk ved de offentlige borgermøder bare der for at forsvare Obamacare eller sådan noget, og de er bare vrede mennesker, der protesterer. Når man går ud med dette budskab, »Sådan her vil vi genopbygge USA; vi må have Glass-Steagall. Vi må have en økonomisk politik i Hamiltons tradition, og vi må have jobs og infrastruktur«. Responsen er ekstraordinær. Og faktisk, på trods af bestræbelserne, der udføres af Soros og nogle af disse andre Obama for Amerika, forbliv, hvor vi er former for organisationer, så ønsker det amerikanske folk at forenes for at arbejde konstruktivt sammen; og de ville ønske, de havde en præsident, der var seriøs i disse spørgsmål. Når man siger, »Dette er dagsordenen, og dette er, hvad vi bør gøre«, så har det en ekstraordinær virkning med at forene folk. Vil du sige noget om det?

Diane Sare: Du sagde det, det er absolut tilfældet. Men det går imod, hvad almindelig fornuft dikterer, for medierne vil have, at man skal tro, at alle disse mennesker, der protesterer, er en flok skrigende, irrationelle fanatikere. Det er simpelt hen ikke sandt. Man må huske på, hvorfor Trump vandt valget? Fordi den amerikanske økonomi er færdig. Fordi, af 320 millioner amerikanere er 90 millioner, der kan arbejde, uden beskæftigelse; de udgør ikke en del af arbejdsstyrken. Så det er virkeligheden, uanset, hvad medierne siger om det. Når vi går til disse demonstrationer, bliver vi alle slået; jeg tror, de var i Boston på denne Aktionsdag. Den åbenhed, vi møder, er ekstraordinær; folk er eftertænsomme, de vil have løsninger. De vil have et program; det har vi. Man kan meget hurtigt trække folk ind i fornuft på dette princip.

Matthew Ogden: Lige præcis. Lad mig blot sige, at, som konklusion, så er Talen til Nationen nu på tirsdag. I løbet af denne weekend er der fremragende muligheder for folk, der ser denne udsendelse, til at gå til disse offentlige borgermøder og uddele denne appel. Man kan også uddele dette dossier, som er meget vigtigt; få folk til at læse det og opmuntr andre mennesker til at printe det ud og cirkulere det selv. Jeg sætter adressen på skærmen, hvor man kan hente dette dossier; vi vil også vise det på YouTube-videoen. (<https://lpac.co/ukraine-dossier>). Videomontagen, som vi viste tidligere i aftenens udsendelse, vil også blive tilgængelig som en separat video, så man kan cirkulere den.

Lad mig slutte med at sige, at Helga Zepp-LaRouche ønskede, at alle skal vide, at den Internationale Sandhedsdag ikke kun skal begrænses til en dag, eller en uge.

At dette må være en fortsættende kampagne; vi må holde presset oppe. Dette er noget, som præsident Trump bør respondere på, og bør opfordres til at respondere på. Den propaganda, der er bragt til torvs om situationen i Ukraine, har været den væsentligste kile, der er drevet ind mellem udsigten til samarbejde mellem USA og Rusland. Som præsident Trump sagde i sin pressekonference for en uge siden, »Den russiske ting er en snare«. Folk bør indse, at den ukrainske ting også er en snare, en list. I diskussioner i denne uge påpegede vi, at den form for kampagne, der blev ført om de 28 sider og sandheden bag det, der skete den 11. september (2001), med saudernes finansiering af disse flykaprere, og kampagnen, som LarouchePAC førte for at få sandheden om de 28 sider ud, var en sejrrig kampagne. Men det var en kampagne, som måtte føres uden ophør; og det var en masse pres over lang tid, der resulterede i sejren med ophævelsen af klassificeringen af de 28 sider. Og vedtagelsen af JASTA-loven, der var et stort nederlag for Obama i hans sidste måneder i embedet. Dette er et meget lignende spørgsmål. Oliver Stone har krævet, at præsident Trump offentliggør dokumenterne om USA's involvering i dette Maidan-kup. Det ville være en meget konstruktiv ting at gøre; og han har myndighed til at gøre det. Men dette er en international uge for sandhed; men det burde blot være en international kampagne for sandhed. Det bør være på linje med og i sammenhæng med, at vi befinder os på et ekstraordinært tidspunkt i historien, hvor den geopolitiske æra kan afsluttes; og USA kan beslutsomt tilslutte sig dette Nye Paradigme for økonomisk udvikling og store projekter, som Kina anfører med den Nye Silkevej.

Mange tak til Diane; jeg ved, du blev interviewet af flere medier under mødet i går i New York. Så vi skal nok se frem til mere dækning af det i forskellige internationale medier i løbet af de næste timer og dage. Vi møder dig igen på mandag til vores diskussion med den politiske komite; og det vil altså finde sted aftenen før Talen til Nationen på næste tirsdag. Så bliv på kanalen larouchepac.com, cirkuler dette dossier så vidt omkring som muligt. Bliv ved at få underskrifter på vores appel og send dem til os. Meld jer til vores e-mailliste, hvis I ikke allerede har.

Mange tak, og på gensyn.

WE NEED AN INTERNATIONAL CAMPAIGN OF TRUTH; NOT JUST AN INTERNATIONAL DAY OR A WEEK OF TRUTH

MATTHEW OGDEN: Good afternoon, it's February 24, 2017.

My

name is Matthew Ogden and you're joining us for our Friday afternoon webcast here at larouchepac.com. I'm joined via video today by Diane Sare, who is a member of our Policy Committee, joining us from New York City.

Now as viewers of this website know, this week has been declared by Helga Zepp-LaRouche to be an international week of Truth. This was intended to coincide with the third anniversary of the coup which overthrew the democratically-elected government of Ukraine three years ago in Kiev; that was February 23, 2014.

Rallies happened all across the United States, and in fact, in Europe as well. We had rallies in New York City, in Detroit, in Washington, DC, in Houston, Texas – other cities in the United States – Boston, Massachusetts; and in Berlin, Germany, Dresden, Germany, Paris, France, and other countries in Europe as well.

Now the significance of this International Day of Truth that happened yesterday, was not only to tell the truth about the events of the Maidan coup three years ago in Ukraine; but to give the warning that, in fact, the same networks that were responsible for using the techniques of color revolution in Ukraine three years ago to overthrow that government, and have used those same techniques in other countries around the world

the Rose Revolution in Georgia, and elsewhere – are now attempting to perpetrate that exact same kind of color revolution inside the United States right now against the democratically-elected government of President Donald Trump.

Now

obviously this has a massive international context, and we're going to get more into detail on that in the discussion later in the broadcast. Helga Zepp-LaRouche was very emphatic in stating – when we talked to her earlier today – that we have to look at this in the context of the new emerging economic paradigm that's coming out of China; the Belt and Road initiative, which is the engine moving history right now. And the fact that there's a very real possibility that under the new administration in the United States, we can end the era of geopolitics and actually enter into a cooperation with Russia, China, India, Japan, and other countries to create a new international cooperation based on economic development and productivity.

As I said, we will get more into detail in that context; but to begin the broadcast, I would like to play a video montage for you of these rallies that happened around the country and around the world yesterday, on this February 23rd International Day of Truth.

DIANE SARE : I'm Diane Sare with the LaRouche PAC Policy Committee, and we're here at Dag Hammarskjold Plaza not far from the United Nations. We're participating in the Day of Truth called for by Lyndon and Helga LaRouche. This week marks the third anniversary of a coup in Ukraine; a coup against the nation of Ukraine, where the democratically-elected President, Yanukovich, was ousted by a bunch of violent, pro-Nazi demonstrators who were funded and supported with Victoria

Nuland's claim of $5 billion through the US State Department during the Presidency of Barack Obama; and with obvious support from mega-speculator George Soros. Our point is that today, Obama and Soros are committing treason against the elected government of the United States on behalf of the British Empire. The British Empire has, for centuries, organized to prevent the United States from working with Russia. We have a great potential right now because of the events of 2013; the formation of the BRICS Bank and the announcement by Chinese President Xi Jinping that China has embarked on an initiative of win-win collaboration – the end of geopolitics. That if the United States were to abandon the policies of regime change and the policies of the British Empire which we were carrying out under the Bush and Obama Presidencies, and work with Russia, China, India, and Japan on global development, we would transform the planet; and mankind would have the brightest future imaginable. So, it is very urgent today that we lay to rest the lies, the disgusting, Nazi-like propaganda against Russia, which is being used to try and overthrow the Presidency of Donald Trump; who has expressed his intent to change that dynamic. We urge everybody on the LaRouche PAC website to join this effort; to print out the literature, to sign the petition calling for the reinstatement of the Glass-Steagall Act, which would cut off the legs of the Wall Street and City of London to finance such terrorist operations, and to work with us to insure the United States is able to return to the intended legacy of our Founding Fathers such as George Washington, Alexander Hamilton, and recently the intent of American statesman and genius, Lyndon LaRouche.

KESHA ROGERS : February 23rd marks the three-year anniversary of the coup in the Maidan in Ukraine; it started February 23, 2014. This has been ongoing as an effort by Barack Obama, former President of the United States, and George Soros, the multi-billionaire drug pusher, who has been leading the charge to destroy and overthrow nations in order to get the United States into a war with Russia. The lies that continue to escalate the activities in Ukraine that pointed to the idea that it was Putin who was in charge of the escalation in Ukraine, are the same lies that are taking place here, right now, in the United States to get the Trump Presidency overthrown. This has to be stopped. As a part of a national Day of Truth, we have unleashed a dossier that exposes Obama and Soros for their money-pushing, lies that have created total chaos both in the United States and continues to push the chaos in Ukraine. The target is Putin and Russia.

What we should be doing is working with Russia; working with Putin. We have to stop these wars; we have to stop this continued chaos. We should be working in terms of cooperation, as Lyndon LaRouche has pointed out, with the Silk Road economic development; that is what the United States needs. We're here at a rally at Twome and 59th at an overpass. Our banner reads "Jail Obama, Soros For Treason! Ukraine 2014; US 2017". People must understand what is happening to this nation now, and demand that we need economic development; we need cooperation. So, we're out here as part of a Day of Truth; and we ask that each and every person who sees this, participates in our rallies and reads the dossier.

HARLEY SCHLANGER [voice over video of singing]: Today is the third anniversary of the coup that was carried out by US intelligence operations, neo-conservatives funded by George Soros, to bring a gang of Nazis into power in Kiev. We're here today as a Day of Truth, to get out the real story. The Ukraine operation is being geared up again to create fighting between Russia and the West as a way of sabotaging the potential that exists with the Trump administration to break with this policy of war. The American electorate voted for Trump, in large part, to break this policy of confrontation with Russia; so it's important that this Day of Truth bring out the reality that the Ukraine situation was never about democracy in Ukraine. But about a deliberate operation to create a confrontation between the United States and Russia. This is the policy of George Soros, the City of London, and Barack Obama, who was involved in sabotaging President Trump's initiative for peace between Russia and the United States.

So, we're here in Berlin as part of an International

Day of Truth, to call attention to the fact that the criminals who brought the Nazis into power in Kiev, have still not been brought to court; have not been brought to justice. So this demonstration here in Berlin is part of the International Day of Action. You can go to the websites of the LaRouche organization to get a dossier that we put out on who is responsible for the killing in Ukraine. It's not the Russians; it's not President Putin. It's Hillary Clinton, Victoria Nuland, the neo-conservatives in the United States, and former President Obama.

[Male #1 speaking in German]

[Male #2 speaking in German, saying that there are rallies

in Boston, New York City, in Paris, Berlin, and Frankfurt-an-Main, and describing coup three years ago.]

OGDEN: Now, this full dossier can be accessed at <https://lpac.co/ukraine-dossier> which we'll put on the screen right now. The title of it is "Obama and Soros; Nazis in Ukraine 2014, U.S. in 2017?" This is being circulated at all of these Day of Truth rallies that you saw, including in New York City. I will get a report directly from Diane, but before I bring her on, let me report that there is a long article in {Itar-Tass} which is a Russian news publication which features coverage of the rally that occurred in New York City; that was the very beginning of our montage. The title of this was that "Protesters in New York Accused Obama and Soros of Organizing the Coup in Ukraine."

Then

it is noted that similar actions took place in Boston, Houston,

Berlin, and elsewhere. Let me just read you a very quick excerpt from this {Itar-Tass} article. It says:

"Activists for several hours, were handing out on Thursday in the center of New York as well as a number of other American cities, printed materials that state that the change of power in Ukraine was carried out with the direct support of billionaire George Soros and the administration of the 44th US President, Barack Obama. The action was organized by the international Schiller Institute in the framework of a campaign to educate Americans with the actual situation in Ukraine on the occasion of the anniversary of the events in Maidan."

Then it has a subtitle – "Yesterday, Yanukovych; Tomorrow,

Trump". "In New York," the article states, "the event was held in the central district of Manhattan in the square at the intersection of 42nd Street and Second Avenue, near the United Nations headquarters. Members deployed in particular. Posters with the words 'Obama in Prison'; 'Your Enemy, George Soros'."

Then it quotes from Diane Sare: "|'We have distributed here probably several hundred of our publications,' says spokesman Diane Sare, who is part of the political committee of the movement of Lyndon LaRouche. According to her, similar actions took place on Thursday in Boston and in Houston, as well as the German capital, Berlin. As emphasized by Sare, activists are out to 'Tell the whole world the truth about what happened in Ukraine

three years ago.'" "

Then, skipping over a little bit, it says, "According to Sare, it is important for Americans to know about the events in Ukraine, where Viktor Yanukovich, the legitimately elected President, was deposed; as in a similar scenario, the situation may begin to develop in the United States. 'The same people are now trying to remove from power, the American President Donald Trump.'" "

Then it concludes by saying, "The materials which were distributed by the activists, are data from the LaRouche Movement that have been prepared in the report on the events in Ukraine and the possibility of a similar situation in the United States.

The full version of the document was provided to Tass; in it, the change of power in the country was described as a violent revolution carried out by the active participation of 'neo-Nazi groups'. The Obama administration, and some of Washington's allies, as noted, used the events in Ukraine, 'as a justification of the new stage of NATO's military mobilization against Russia.

Victoria Nuland, who at the time held the post of Assistant Secretary of State for European and Eurasian Affairs, came several times to the protest; handing out cookies to the Maidan, while she refused to acknowledge the fact that aside from the peaceful protesters concerned about corruption and the situation in the economy, there were also explicitly neo-fascist gangs that participated in the armed rebellion against an elected government."

And then it concludes, saying "The authors point out that at the present time, Soros, as well as people who previously were part of Obama's inner circle, are actively involved in the attempts to discredit Trump, and promised not to allow the new occupant of the White House the normalization of relations between Moscow and Washington." Then it says, "At the end of 2016, activists of the Schiller Institute, in memory of the victims of the TU-154 crash, brought flowers to the Consulate-General of the Russian Federation in New York, and performed at the entrance the Russian Anthem. And in early January, they held a ceremony at the Tear of Grief Monument in Bayonne, New Jersey, in memory of those killed in the crash.

"Lyndon LaRouche," – and this is the conclusion of the TASS article – "American economist and politician, author of the so-called theory of physical economy, and the enemy of monetarist conceptions, considers Russia a key player on the world stage, and believes that Russia, along with China, India, and the United States, and several other countries, can save the world from the biggest crisis in history."

So, that's a very substantial report and coverage in TASS, and Diane, I know that you were interviewed by a number of other international media outlets at this rally at the United Nations, so maybe you can give us a report from on the ground there.

DIANE SARE: Sure! What's striking there, as what also has, I've learned from our people who were in Boston, which has a similar, maybe more uptight and snooty population than we have in New York – and by that I mean people consider it largely liberal. You would think we would be getting a very closed or hostile response to what we have to say; but actually the openness was quite extraordinary. We got out 70 copies of the dossier with the explicit understanding that we're only giving them to representatives of missions or other organizational institutional people, so I imagine that that number of people from a couple of dozen different nations stopped to take the material and many of them came back to get more information.

I think, notable, was a comment from a young African-American military veteran who said, "You know, I had thought of Trump as one of the Establishment. He's wealthy, he's a billionaire, he's white, he's part of Wall Street. Why are they attacking him?" He said that it began to make sense that if there is, on the one hand, a push for war with Russia – and that is something that Trump is opposed to – that this might be the cause of such an attack.

I also wanted to just elaborate a little bit more on what I was saying in that video about 2013, because I think that unless people understand that, you can't really understand what's going on here, and I was reflecting on that summer. What happened in 2013 were two things: one, Chinese President Xi Jinping announced the One Belt, One Road Initiative, which now has over 70 nations, billions of the world's people, tens of thousands of kilometers of high-speed rail, pending agreements on building ports, building nuclear power plants, space exploration, etc.; but also there was a conference in July in Fortaleza, Brazil of the BRICS nations, where they established a development bank and also a bank to protect themselves against currency speculation, which went into operation about a year later.

I was reflecting on this, because we were in the U.S. Congress lobbying – Matt, you will remember this – that week, and we discovered no one in the Congress had heard anything about this extraordinary development. It's a really big deal, to have nations – Russia, China, India, these are big countries. Brazil is a large country in South America. South Africa is very advanced in terms of the continent of Africa, and they have a commitment for nuclear power, which is interesting. And the fact that they would create a financial and economic institution which would make it {possible} for nations to get out of the grip of the bankrupt British Empire.

I remember what we learned, is that, actually, the State Department had sent out a memo or something instructing people that this was really not an important development. I raise that now, because what Americans should not miss, is the {potential}. Why the hysteria? Why would George Soros be deploying his tens of millions of dollars to pay all these agitators and organize this 30,000-person army of activists that Barack Obama is allegedly going to be leading? Well, because what has come into existence – and it's very advanced already – is a New Paradigm.

Viewers of LaRouche PAC are probably aware: the Chinese, together with the government of Ethiopia, just completed a railroad from Djibouti to Addis Ababa. This was a route that took 3 days by truck, and now takes 12 hours by train. This means that when you have a drought in Ethiopia, people don't have to die.

You can quickly get food and water there. It means great potential for the development of the entire continent of Africa, for the continent of South America. And if you think about what people were taught – what the British system of economics is – not just "buy cheap and sell dear," but Malthus: resources are increasing arithmetically and population geometrically.

Therefore, we're over-populated; we have to shut down human consumption of energy and food; reduce the population. Wars are good for that.

In other words, what we have a potential for, is a completely new paradigm for mankind, worldwide, and the key is for the United States to join this. President Trump, by expressing his intent to have a reasonable relationship with Russia, and hopefully China and Japan (he mentioned), as well, has indicated an openness to being part of this new paradigm; and therefore the backlash is rather extraordinary. I don't think there's been a time – I know Abraham Lincoln had to travel to his inauguration disguised as a woman, because of protests and so on. But I don't think there's been a time where you've had for weeks, going on months, this kind of agitation, so-called "resistance," whatever they're calling it, the opposition to a new President. I think it's very important that Americans identify what the {potential} is, so we know what the battle is that's occurring; and therefore combatting the lies in the U.S.

media about Russia, about Vladimir Putin, and what Russia's intention is. And what happened in Ukraine is a very, very important aspect to neutralizing this attack on our Presidency and allowing the potential for the United States to join this.

OGDEN: Absolutely! One thing I should mention, is that in addition to the activities that the international LaRouche movement held this week around this International Week of Truth,

Helga LaRouche also highlighted two very significant calls that came out of both ex-President Viktor Yanukovich and then the former Prime Minister of Ukraine, Mykola Azarov, which also parallel exactly this question of the "week of truth."

Viktor Yanukovich has written a letter, which is addressed to world leaders, which includes President Trump, President Putin, German Chancellor Angela Merkel, and French President François Hollande. And he is calling on world leaders to "initiate the creation of a special commission of the Council of Europe to monitor the investigation of crimes that were committed on the Maidan." So, essentially a "Truth Commission," to get at the truth of what really happened during the so-called "peaceful revolution" of the Maidan.

In parallel with that, the former Ukrainian Prime Minister,

Mykola Azarov, who served from 2010 until January 2014, when he resigned at the height of the Maidan protests, has unleashed a report on his Facebook page, saying "Today, we and investigators in Kiev have reliable information about the fact that the murders on the Maidan were carried out by special groups of snipers from Georgia, the Baltic countries, and Poland, under the guidance of instructors from France and Germany." And then he says, "An attempt was made to place the blame for the massacre squarely on Yanukovych and the Berkut riot police." So, he is saying, directly here, that this was a fraud and that the so-called "snipers" were deployed in by intelligence services from the outside in order to explode an already very volatile situation, and to turn it from just protests, into a violent coup d'etat. This is also in the context of this International Week of Truth around the truth of what's happening, or what {did} happen in Ukraine.

At the same time, you have several U.S. Congressmen who are identifying the role that George Soros is playing {right now} in attempts to start a color revolution in Macedonia. They should maybe, perhaps, turn their focus right to their own back yard and to their own town hall meetings, and to the events in the United States; but it's very useful that these are sitting U.S.

Congressmen [who] are identifying the role that George Soros and his networks play in these international color revolutions.

Now, Diane, let me come back to the point that you made, and I think it's a critical point, that there is no way to understand the reality of what really was the intention behind what happened in Ukraine in 2014, without understanding this dramatic turning point that history experienced at that moment. This was the BRICS Summit in Fortaleza – as you mentioned – and really especially, the announcement of President Xi Jinping of the Belt and Road Initiative; the New Silk Road. It was the decision by Viktor Yanukovich not to enter into this free-trade agreement with the failing European Union, and instead to preserve his economic relationship with Russia, which was the pretext behind the reason why it was decided {at that point} to launch this kind of violent overthrow of his government.

Now, take a look at the present moment. What has Donald Trump telegraphed? Now only did he withdraw from the TPP – which was the intended plan by the Obama Administration to try to {contain} the Chinese influence in Asia; but he has also had direct conversations with President Xi Jinping, which he said are very constructive. He had this summit with President Abe. But these relationships – as he made clear – do not have to be mutually exclusive. And clearly, his relationship with Russia – the fact that he pulled us back from the brink of a thermonuclear war which was being pursued by Obama and prospectively by Hillary Clinton.

So, it's in that context, and it's the tension of this present moment in history which is not yet resolved. But the question is, will the United States join the New Silk Road? As people know, there is this upcoming summit in May on the Belt and Road Initiative in China; which is being hosted by President Xi Jinping, and will be attended personally by President Putin of Russia. The current campaign is to convey to President Trump that not only should he attend this summit in person; but that he should walk away from the summit with an expressed commitment that the United States is abandoning the geopolitics of the past several decades, and is decisively entering into a win-win cooperation with the nation of China and all of the allied countries around this New Silk Road initiative. There is no way that the United States can have an economic recovery {without} participating in this new development paradigm of great projects which China has already begun spreading across Eurasia. As you mentioned, Diane, into Africa; and even in countries in Latin America.

One thing that's very significant is a report that has just come out, published by PriceWaterhouse Cooper, which is a major international business and analysis firm. This is a report which is titled "2016 Assessment B&R Watch; China and the Belt and Road Infrastructure; Review and Outlook". And this was just published in February of 2017. This has a very comprehensive overview of what the Belt and Road Initiative is; it has a very well-made map which is called "Belt and Road; Resurrecting the Ancient Silk Road". It has a section which documents how many countries are already involved in the Belt and Road Initiative. It says, "The B&R region spans three continents and includes a total of 66 countries, from Lithuania to Indonesia." Then in the context of the explosive growth that has already begun to be seen in some of these countries – especially China, but other countries that are benefiting from this investment in these great projects; it then has their analysis for the coming months and the coming years.

One slide says "We see potential for significant growth in power, rail, and health care in a number of the middle-income Belt and Road countries." Another slide says "Trans-Eurasian rail networks will dramatically reduce the time between China and European consumer markets." Then finally, it says "Urbanization and population growth will spur continued demand for high-capacity transportation infrastructure."

So, again, this is the future of the world economy.

The

growth is now, the center of gravity has now shifted decisively to Eurasia, to China, and to these countries that are now a part of the Belt and Road Initiative. If Donald Trump is serious about facilitating an economic recovery in the United States, it will be done by joining – in a win-win cooperation – with China and these other countries; and joining the New Silk Road. As I mentioned, LaRouche PAC had published a pamphlet two years ago on the subject of the United States joining the New Silk Road; and we are currently in the process of updating this pamphlet in a completely new way. Hopefully, that will be available in the next week or two.

So, put this in context and recognize, the Ukraine coup happened because of Viktor Yanukovich's decision not to enter into a free-trade agreement with the failing European Union; and was recognizing that there was a new economic dynamic that was emerging from Eurasia. Now, you've got a very similar situation potentially, from inside the United States. So, this Day of Truth was not only to say "Here's what happened in Ukraine three years ago," but let that be a warning; this is, in fact, actively being attempted inside the United States today.

So Diane, maybe you want to follow up a little bit on that question. But also, I should point out, that President Trump's State of the Union address to a Joint Session of Congress is coming up next Tuesday. That's February 28th, and that is the deadline for our petition campaign around the Glass-Steagall initiative. We can put up on the screen right now the address; this is <https://lpac.co/trumpsotu>. And this petition campaign continues to accelerate. We had a report last night on our Fireside Chat activist call, of several activists with LaRouche PAC from New York City to Connecticut to California attending town hall meetings, and intervening with this issue. Glass-Steagall is urgent; Trump promised this during his Presidential campaign. We have to hold him to this, and urge him to commit to the restoration of Glass-Steagall during or before his State of the Union address next Tuesday. So, Diane maybe you can say a little more about that campaign; or anything else that you want to add.

SARE: Well, I would just say that Trump has expressed his intent to spend $1 trillion on infrastructure in the United States. Now I understand that the Chinese think we need about $8 trillion in investment; which is probably more accurate. But $1 trillion is certainly a good start. But how do you do this? Where does it go, if the Prime Minister of Japan, Abe, who was just here, wants to invest $150 billion to build high-speed rail? Number one, if you have a banking system where any savings can be used as collateral for bailing out derivatives obligations, who would want to put their investments through such a system? Two, we don't have a national bank; we don't have the Treasury under the control of the Congress in a sense as it should be. We've got the Federal Reserve that's done $31 trillion worth of bail-outs. So, in order for this to succeed, LaRouche's Four Laws, starting first and foremost with Glass-Steagall, is absolutely urgent. Glass-Steagall alone is not sufficient; but it's the first step.

I would say that if Trump fails to go with Glass-Steagall, and to go with this approach, it's a great vulnerability; because unless the government of the United States actually acts to rein in this gigantic bubble of speculative debt, and to put up that firewall between the investment banks and the commercial banks, then when the system implodes – which it inevitably will; it {must}.

Everyone should just consider, what have we done, in terms of physical productivity, commensurate with the amount of money that is now in circulation? Nothing. The physical productivity has collapsed. This is Mr. LaRouche's famous Triple Curve function that looks like a trumpet bell; with a hyperbolic curve going up and a hyperbolic curve going down. We're at the break point; the system will crash. We must have Glass-Steagall in place. If that is not done, it creates a potential for extraordinary chaos in this country and globally. But then too, you want a system of banking; a national system of banking that allows the necessary credit to flow into drivers of the whole economy. Which emphatically means funding for the development of thermonuclear nuclear fusion energy, to elevate the entire platform of how we function; the space program. Instead of just little pockets of high-speed rail, we actually need a trans-continental railroad. As I've said before, if we're going to cross the Hudson River, we should make sure we cross the Bering Strait at the other end. These are only possible with a sane banking system; so I think it's just very urgent that we not leave this vulnerability open. Everybody who's involved in watching this or your friends, your neighbors, get these petitions circulating, signed, and get them to your Congressman or your Senator or send them back to us. I know we delivered 2300 signatures for this to the Trump White House, and we're going to be doing a lot more. We should do it very quickly.

OGDEN: And then the one thing you also were pointing out yesterday, is that despite the media propaganda, that everybody at these town hall meetings is just there to defend the Obamacare or something like that, and are just enraged protesters. When you go with this message, "This is how we're going to rebuild the United States; and we need Glass-Steagall. And we need Hamiltonian economic policies, and we need jobs and infrastructure." The response is extraordinary. And in fact, despite the efforts of Soros and some of these other Obama for America, stay behind kind of organizations, the American people want to be united to constructively work together; and wish they did have a President who was serious about this kind of question. When you say "This is the agenda, and this is what we should be doing," it has an extraordinary effect of unifying people. I don't know if you want to say anything more about that.

SARE: Yeah, you said it; that's absolutely the case. But it is counterintuitive; because the media would have you believe that every one of these protesters is some screaming, irrational fanatic. And it's simply not true. You have to remember, why did Trump win the election? Because the US economy is finished. Because out of 320 million Americans, over 90 million who are eligible to work are not employed; they're not part of the workforce. So, that is the reality, whatever the news media wants to say about it. Then, when we approach these demonstrations, everyone was very struck; and I think they were in Boston on this Day of Action. The openness we're getting is extraordinary; people are thoughtful, they want solutions. They want a program; we have that. You can very quickly pull people into sanity on that principle.

OGDEN: Exactly. So, let me just say, in conclusion, the State of the Union speech obviously is next Tuesday. Over the course of this weekend, there are extraordinary opportunities for people who are viewing this broadcast to go and circulate this petition at these town hall meetings. You can also circulate this dossier, which is very important; get people's hands on this and encourage other people to print it out and circulate it themselves. Again, let me put up on the screen the address where you can get this dossier; and we'll make this available in the description of this YouTube video also. But it's <https://lpac.co/ukraine-dossier>. The video montage that you

earlier in the broadcast today, we will also make available as a separate item in order to circulate this.

Let me just conclude by saying that Helga LaRouche wanted to make it known that the International Day of Truth should not be limited to merely one day, or to one week. That this has got to be an ongoing campaign; we've got to keep the pressure going. This is something that President Trump should respond to, and should be called upon to respond to. The propaganda that has been peddled about the Ukraine situation has been the major wedge driven between the perspective of cooperation of the United States and Russia. As President Trump said in his press conference a week ago, "The Russia thing is a ruse." And people should recognize that the Ukraine thing is also a ruse. In discussions this week, we pointed out that the kind of campaign that was waged about the 28 pages and the truth behind what happened on 9/11, with the financing by the Saudis of these hijackers and the campaign that LaRouche PAC led to get the truth out about the 28 pages, was a victorious campaign. But it was one that had to be continuously run; and it was a lot of long-term pressure that resulted in the victory of the declassification of the 28 pages. And the passage of the JASTA vote, which was a major defeat for Obama during his last few months in office. This is a very similar question. Oliver Stone has called for President Trump to release the documents on the US involvement in this coup

on the Maidan. That would be a very constructive thing to do;
and he has the authority to do that. But this is an International Week of Truth; but it should just be an International {Campaign} of Truth. It must be in parallel and in the context of the recognition that we are at an extraordinary moment in history, where the age of geopolitics can be ended; and the United States

can decisively join this New Paradigm of economic development
and

great projects that China is leading with the New Silk Road.

So, thank you very much Diane; I know that you were interviewed by numerous media outlets during the rally yesterday

up in New York. So, we'll probably look forward to more coverage

of that in various international media outlets over the next few hours and days. We will be joining you again on Monday for our discussion with the Policy Committee; and obviously that will occur on the eve of the State of the Union address next Tuesday.

So, please stay tuned to larouhepac.com; please circulate this dossier as widely as possible. Please continue to get petition signatures and send them in to us. Please subscribe to our email list if you have not already. Thank you very much and we will see

you soon.
